FULL SPEED A HEDGE

58442

VESEYS TOP PICK! BEST SELLING SHRUB OF ALL TIME! Thuja occidentalis.

Need a cedar hedge in a hurry? Here's the answer! Very fast growing, hardy and densely branched, 'American Pillar' is ideal for hedging with its desirable columnar form. The tall, narrow habit requires no pruning, allowing a more natural and carefree feel. This was very popular last year and we could not keep it in stock. Very hardy and it does well in cold Canadian climates. Order early this year to avoid disappointment. We ship in a 1 litre pot approximately 12" in height.

LITTLE LIME PUNCH HYDRANGEA

VESEYS TOP PICK! BEST SELLING FLOWERING SHRUB OF ALL TIME! Hydrangea paniculata.

Sometimes an item leaves us speechless and this is one of those times! You may even find it hard to believe that this special Hydrangea can display blooms in four different colours all at the same time.....but it really does! From the trusted 'Proven Winners' comes this truly incredible Panicle Hydrangea. 'Little Lime Punch' bears fascinating colour-changing flowers, meaning that one plant can be covered in different coloured blooms! It really is a remarkable sight when it is in its glory. New flowers emerge a lime-green shade and fade to near white. They'll then develop a soft pink blush which darkens and deepens until the bloom is a rich, raspberry pink. A perfect, compact size, 'Little Lime Punch' is versatile and easy to manage. It's hard to describe, but every time you look at this plant, it just makes you happy. 1 litre pot.

Dear Gardening Friends,

If you are a seasoned gardener, you understand how much joy and personal satisfaction a garden can provide. I find it interesting that every year I think I just don't have any room to add new items but somehow, they all magically fit and if they don't, out comes the shovel and a new garden is created. If you're new to gardening and you're patiently waiting for your thumb to turn 'green', enjoy the journey and be patient. Give Mother Nature the time she needs to help create your backyard masterpiece.

To stimulate your gardening senses, we are excited to share with you our 2026 Spring Bulb & Perennial Catalogue. If you like adding new and exciting items to your current garden layout, you will be pleased to learn there are over 90 brand-new items in this publication. We collaborate closely with growers in Holland and North America to secure these many new varieties. They often sell out quickly, therefore, we suggest placing your order NOW! This secures inventory for you, and the best part is that your credit card will not be charged until we ship your order in the Spring. We are also pleased to offer three money-saving offers and YOU pick the offer the best suits YOU! Depending on the total dollar value of your order, you may be eligible to receive FREE SHIPPING or a reduction of your order by either $50 or $100 dollars. Order today and save today!

Established in 1939, we are now in our 87th year of serving Canadian gardeners. If you are purchasing from Veseys for the very first time or are one of our long-time customers, we are grateful for the trust and confidence you place in us. We pride ourselves on being gardening experts and as such we are here to provide support. Our web site is filled with many helpful resources, and our skilled and experienced staff are standing by to assist. In combination with the quality of our products and dedicated staff, we guarantee that your order will meet your satisfaction upon arrival. If not, we will replace any item free of charge.

We hope you enjoy this catalogue and encourage you to sit down with a beverage, flip through the pages and select your favourites. When your order arrives next spring, after a long winter, you will be glad to be back in your garden. That is where you are guaranteed to find peace and tranquility at a time in our lives when it is needed the most.

Have FUN in your garden!

NEW DAHLIAS

Even though Dahlias are enjoying a new surge of popularity lately with the indisputable trend of flower farming and local cut flower production, they are truly an old-fashioned favourite with very humble, rural roots. In our area, most farms of yesteryear would have had a row of prized Dahlias blooming wildly in late summer. The tubers were dug in fall and easily stored in the root cellar with the potatoes. In spring, tubers would be shared, traded and spread around to neighbours and friends. The very best part of growing Dahlias is that you don't need to be afraid to cut a vase full of flowers to enjoy or to gift. The more you cut Dahlias, the more they bloom! They are absolute flower machines, pumping out an incredible number of blooms. No.1 root.

KIWI

Arctic Kiwi

37831

NEW! Actinidia kolomikta. This is an incredible plant that you can grow for its unique tasting fruit, as an ornamental vine, or both! 'Arctic Kiwi' never fails to impress with its incredible hardiness, remarkable vigour and unique tasting, smooth skinned Kiwi fruit. The leaves are lovely, heart shaped and may have sporadic splashes of pink and white. Like a grape vine, you will need a sturdy support, like a trellis or pergola. Best planted in a partly shaded location, and with a male pollinator nearby, you can expect to have fruit by the third year. Hardy to zone 3.

HASKAP

Lonicera. Unique, tart flavour compares to a cross between blueberries and raspberries, but really is unique. These native shrubs have been bred in Saskatchewan and are harder than highbush blueberries, and more tolerant of a wide range of soil types. Can be used for fresh eating, baked into desserts like blueberries, or even dried like raisins. They really excel when turned into sauces, and make the very deepest purple jam. Extremely high in antioxidants. Will begin bearing fruit in 2-3 years. Birds also love the fruit, so Black Netting is recommended. All are hardy to Zone 2.

AURORA & INDIGO GEM

An early maturing pair with excellent flavour. They are great companions with similar size and flavour. More compact than the "Boreal" varieties, and they fit well in smaller gardens. Must be grown together for pollination. 2" plug.

ARONIA BERRIES

Aronia melanocarpa. Poised to become the next superfood of our time, these small black berries are extremely high in antioxidants with 58% more antioxidant content than blueberries and 90% more than cranberries. They are versatile enough for use in endless possibilities such as jam, juice and wine. And, as an added bonus, the shrubs are very easy to grow in almost any condition, tough and disease resistant! We ship 8" plants in a 3.5" pot.

Viking

VESEYS TOP PICK! A self-fertile variety favoured by commercial growers for its high yield of extra large fruit on robust, 8 foot shrubs. The berries of 'Viking' are a uniform size and absolutely bursting with flavour. Hardy to zone 3.

Horseradish 37803

Armoracia rusticana. Easy-to-grow perennial. Horseradish is a widely-adapted, hardy perennial producing roots that can be ground or finely shredded to make wonderfully hot and sweet sauces and condiments. Horseradish root can be harvested in late fall or early spring - dig in the fall after a hard frost for a sweeter flavour, or before the plant leafs out in the spring for maximum pungency. Roots should be divided and replanted every 2 years to prevent them from becoming woody. Horseradish spreads easily so you may want to isolate it in your garden. Hardy to zone 3b. No.1 root.

1 pkg of 1 root: $14.95 • 2 pkgs: $12.70/pkg
4+ pkgs: $11.20/pkg

Guelph Millennium Asparagus 37801

6 pkgs: $17.20/pkg • 16 pkgs: $14.95/pkg

HARDY CHERRIES

Prunus. Romance Series. Beautiful, bright red cherries, ideal for home made cherry pie. These exciting new bush cherries, developed by the University of Saskatchewan after 50 years of breeding work, are perfect for the home gardener. They are very hardy (zone 3), disease resistant and their bush shape is very suitable for the garden. They are heavy yielding, producing up to 10 to 15 kg per plant. With proper care they should begin to bear fruit in 3 years, with full maturity (7 to 8 feet) in 5 to 6 years. These are tart cherries, ideal for cooking, but are also sweet enough for fresh eating. We offer three varieties, all are one year old plants in 4" pots. All are self-pollinating but better results are obtained when two varieties are planted. Cherry trees cannot be shipped to BC.

Juliette 37200

FRAGRANT FAVOURITES

Often our first instinct upon being presented with any flower is to sniff it, because the beauty of flowers and their dreamy aroma are inseparable. Here we've collected some of our very favourite flowers that are known for their amazing scents. Plant them where you can enjoy their perfume as you walk by, or where summer breezes will bring the fragrance right to your outdoor living space.

Palmyra Phlox

Phlox paniculata. We are so impressed with 'Palmyra' for its large bouncy flower heads in varying shades of pink. Flowers are fragrant and have a star-shaped eye with different plants producing all sorts of shades of rose through baby pink. The high mildew tolerance makes 'Palmyra' a must-have addition! No.1 root.

Millenium Allium

Allium. Award winning, and some say the very best Allium ever. Long-lasting, glossy green foliage is loaded with equally perfect globe-shaped, rosy purple flowers. Very attractive to bees and butterflies. This is a carefree perennial that will not disappoint. No.1 root.

Ringo Rose

WINNER OF SIX INTERNATIONAL ROSE AWARDS! Rosa. You would expect an award-winning Rose to be disease resistant, winter hardy and a reliable rebloomer; but let's talk about these flowers! When they first open, the single flowers are a rich, sunny yellow with a bright orange centre. As the flowers mature, they soften to a light, primrose yellow with a peachy centre and finally the flowers are pure white with rose-pink centres. When you first see the three colours on one shrub, it seems impossible. But you will get used to it quickly and it may become your new favourite. 1 litre pot.

POLLINATOR BLENDS

Pollinators like bees, butterflies and hummingbirds play a critical part in our planet's biodiversity, the global food system and human health. Sadly some species of pollinators, and bees in particular, are seeing a decline in their populations. Here is where home gardeners like you can actually make a difference. By planting pollen- and nectar-rich flowers, you attract and provide food for these invaluable species. When planting a pollinator friendly garden, it is important to plant a sizeable mass of flowers so they are easily seen. It's important to plant a large variety of flowers and also important to have a long succession of blooms to provide nectar throughout the season. Here we've designed 5 Pollinator Blends with all of these components in mind. An added bonus to these blends is that they are simply beautiful, with a wildflower, carefree vibe. Consider getting a neighbour on board to attract pollinators with you and begin a patchwork of pollinator gardens in your community.

Karl Foerster Grass

Giant Fountain Grass

GRASSES

Nothing adds movement and texture to a landscape like ornamental grasses. The manner in which they can sway in the breeze is most enjoyable. Generally, grasses perform well in full sun and require very little maintenance. Fall and winter interest are a huge part of their appeal. 2.5" plug.

• LATE SPR-LATE SUMMER

Karl Foerster Feather Reed Grass

53943

PERENNIAL PLANT OF THE YEAR!

Calamagrostis x acutiflora 'Karl Foerster'. The first ornamental grass to win the "Perennial Plant of the Year Award". 'Karl Foerster' is the ornamental grass against which all others are measured. Tall, vase-shaped, non-spreading clump will sway in the breeze to add height, drama and movement. The more moisture it gets, the taller it will grow. Zones 4-9. Height 48-60".
